The amount contributed this morning to the ducation of poor young men for the ministry ав $1310.

Rev. P. Coombe resumed his address on residing Elder question. He argued that the pirit of the Church is against an aged pastor. hey all want young men for their pastors. he Presiding Eldership should therefore be ept open as a home for old ministers. He also ontended that the whole thing is personal, and stended to reach one man only. He was oposed to the paper because it is irregular and Il-advised. The vote was taken, and the resolution was dopted by a very decided majority.

A. M. Burton, Esq., was elected a trustee of he centenary fund.

The usual votes of thanks were tendered to ne good people of Reading for their hospitality, o the pastors of the churches, to the Bishop, nd the officers of the body. On motion of Rev. T. A. Fernley, the Reading Rallroad and other corporations were included. The Committee on Sunday Schools was an-counced as follows:—Rev. J. W. Jackson, A. Sappington, Esq., Rev. T. A. Fernley, Colonel J. A. Wright, Rev. C. H. Payne, D. D., Prof. W. G. Fischer, Rev. J. E. Smith, General Al-bright.

Committee on Domestic Missions was ap pointed-Revs. W. Cooper, D. D., C. J. Thompon; T. W. Price, Esq., A. Bard, Esq., B. Hay-

Wood, Esq. The journal was then read up. The hymn,

"And let our bodies part, To different climes repair, was sung. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr.

Bishop Scott made a short address. He related an instance which occurred in California in 1858. At the close of the Oregon Conference a young minister was united in marriage to a young lady of Oregon, and the young couple took passage in a ship to San Francisco. Dur-ing the passage the Bishop formed a very favorable opinion of the young couple.

At the conference, in making out the appointments, one appointment had to be filled, but it was hard to reach, and rough when reached. The young minister was thought of, but he disliked to make the appointment; but he seemed to be the right man in the right place. With great nervousness he wrote the name of the prother, and he was read out for "Union and While at the table he saw the brother and his loving bride approaching him, he supposed, to protest against the appointment. They spoke, and the Bishop said, "I hope I have sent your husband to a good place." She sweetly said, "Bishop, if it is not a good place, we'll try to make it one." The Bishop urged the ministers to make the places to which they are about to be appointed good places, if they are not. The appointments were then read by the Bishop at 3 o'clock, who closed by the Apostolic of our subscribers yesterday. We reprint them, that they may be seen by all readers of THE
